

Author's Biography

Advanced Project Management Methodology with Method for changing Knowledge to Wisdom

Name Michihiko Esaki (Methodology Originator)

Ph.D. Professor of Asahi university , Gifu , Japan

Born Jan. 20 1933, at Nagoya, Japan

Michihiko Esaki (Methodology Originator) Ph.D. as of 2002 in Gifu city, Japan

School and university

1951 March Graduated from Doshima High School, Kyoto
1951 April Entered Naval Architecture Department of Osaka University
1955 March Graduated the above
1992 March Entered the post graduate course of Management Engineering
Department of Tokyo Technology Institute
1993 June Graduated the above
1993 June Received Doctorate of Ph.D. from Tokyo Technology Institute

Job history

1955 April Kawasaki Aircraft Co. Ltd. (Later name was changed to Aerospace Division of Kawasaki Heavy Industries Co.)

-----1991 March retirement of Kawasaki Heavy Industry Co.

Experienced 32 positions at this company during 36 years of service.

Main positions are as follows:

- Production Technician of part fabrication, sub and main assembly line, flight line, test and repair of aircraft equipment and procurement department.
- Team leader of value engineering, cost down of aircraft and missile production
- Team leader of long range plan of company and cost/price investigation
- Manager of design to cost for helicopter and jet aircraft design
- Senior manager of emergency medical system helicopter market creation
- Team leader of logistic support study for jet trainer
- Senior advisor of design to cost for space station program

1995~ Prof. of Information Management Science, Project Management Lab. in Graduate School of Business Administration, Asahi University.

2000~ Wise men Committee member of Central Procurement Office of Japan Defense Agency